

The Familiar and the Obscure (9/30/17)

On a late September day, John & Jessica dig through their record collection, finding favorites, as usual. But as they dig deeper, they find some more obscure gems and share with us such excellent artists as Beverly Kenney, Connie Evingson, Bob Dorough, and others. Some things old and some things new, or so they seem to you.

Kate McGarry - The Heather on the Hill (The Target)
Kurt Elling - Tight (Nightmoves)
Marty Paich - Nice and Easy (The Picasso of Big Band Jazz)
Cyrille Aimee - Lazy Afternoon (Let's Get Lost)
Jimmy Webb & Glen Campbell - By the Time I Get to Phoenix (Just Across the River)
Blossom Dearie - Moonlight Saving Time (Once upon a Summertime)
John Pizzarelli - When I Take My Sugar to Tea (Kisses in the Rain)
Frank Sinatra - You Brought a New Kind of Love to Me (Songs for Swingin' Lovers!)
Chet Baker - Look for the Silver Lining (LA Confidential OMPS)
Bill Charlap - A Sleepin' Bee (Notes from New York)
Michael Franks - Underneath the Apple Tree (Tiger in the Rain)
Jan Lundgren - September Song (European Standards)

Beverly Kenney - Give Me the Simple Life (Nola)
Mel Torme/Buddy Rich - Oh, Lady Be Good (Together Again for the First Time)
Helen Merrill - Just You, Just Me (Helen Merrill with Strings)
Connie Evingson - Little Did I Dream (Songs by Dave Frishberg)
Michael Feinstein - You Are There (Forever)
Jessica Molaskey - Heart's Desire (A Kiss to Build a Dream On)
